

Course Title: Child Growth and Development
Course Description: Child Growth and Development is the study of human development from conception through adolescence. Students identify social, physical, intellectual, and emotional developmental milestones for each age level while focusing on the responsibilities of parents, families, and caregivers to nurture the development of children. Opportunities to interact with children are provided throughout this course, which is designed to articulate with Iowa community colleges having child care programs.
Prerequisite: none
Human Development
Reporting Topics	Grade Level Standards
Analyze principles of human growth and development across the lifespan. 12.1	Analyze physical, emotional, social, spiritual, and intellectual development. 12.1.1 Analyze interrelationships among physical, emotional, social, and intellectual aspects of human growth and development. 12.1.2 Analyze current and emerging research about human growth and development, including research on brain development. 12.1.3
Analyze conditions that influence human growth and development. 12.2	Analyze the effect of heredity and environment on human growth and development. 12.2.1 Analyze the impact of social, economic, and technological forces on individual growth and development. 12.2.2 Analyze the effects of life events on individuals' physical, intellectual, social, moral, and emotional development. 12.2.4

