

UCSD Statement Regarding UHS Bathroom Stall Message

A situation took place at our high school this morning. A student who had a bloody nose used the blood to leave a religious-focused message on the bathroom stall and left the area without flushing the blood from the stool. Another student came upon the mess, took a picture and tweeted the scene. We've confirmed that no one is hurt and the area has been cleaned. We know who was involved and are taking appropriate steps to resolve the situation. All students and staff are safe and following our regular school schedule today, Thursday, February 9, 2017.
